ABSTRACT

The silence-acoustic-model correcting division generates a silence acoustic model that is used for recognizing the silent section Ts which exists in the beginning of the speech recognition section, on the basis of the environment noise that is included in the noise observation section Tn.